TREE CARE + LANDSCAPES

Why Trees and Landscapes?

Simply put, we love trees. Trees cleanse the air, filter water, and provide shelter. They are often mementos of historical or personal significance. Trees watch our families grow and they grow with us. Landscapes give us a place to play. They are where memorable moments are made, forever imprinted on our minds in colors, textures, and even scents.

We specialize in trees and landscapes because we appreciate their significance beyond property value. At Wonderland, we are dedicated to caring for and protecting your trees and landscape, and in return, providing you with beautiful and safe spaces to connect you with the natural environment.

With exquisite craftsmanship and attention to detail, our work extends your livable space to reflect your style in the outdoors. Wonderland Tree Care + Landscapes is a trustworthy and capable partner dedicated to working with you to bring your vision to life.

Wonderland is proud to care for many specimen and legacy trees across Long Island. This specimen Metasequoia glyptostroboides is the largest in North America and is under Wonderland's care at Bailey Arboretum in Locust Valley.

We Have History Here

Wonderland is a family-owned company founded on the pillars of environmental responsibility, transformational leadership, and excellent customer service. Since 1979, we've built a reputation for providing homeowners with high-quality services.

We consider ourselves trailblazers. Wonderland holds the distinction of being the first company on Long Island to be accredited by the Tree Care Industry Association.

Further, we are proud to have long-term memberships with multiple professional associations. Membership with these organizations requires observance of the highest professional standards, and we are proud to uphold them.

Our team of experts are professionals in their fields and apply the latest, most advanced techniques in tree care, shrub care, and landscape installation. Many of our team members are ISA Certified Arborists and Tree Care Industry Association Certified Treecare Safety Professionals.

With a strong family presence and multiple team members that have been with Wonderland for more than 10 years, coupled with a combined 300+ years of experience, you can rest assured your property is in qualified hands that have done their fair share of digging, planting, and caring.

Wonderland is proud of our family values and deep roots. David and Thomas Golon are proud partners overseeing the care and dedication of this amazing company. Both are actively involved in our local communities and give back to many industries and not-for-profit boards.

Let's Grow Together

Unparalleled customer service is a pillar of Wonderland Tree Care + Landscapes. We're fortunate to have forged excellent relationships with clients across the Island to provide them with the professionalism, care, and beauty their properties deserve.

Our relationships go deep. We've cared for some clients' properties since our founding more than 40 years ago. We're also proud to support these clients' family members. It's unique for a tree care and landscaping firm to have sticking power and such strong relationships, and the loyal clients we work with have enabled us to support the next generation of homeowners.

Wonderland is passionate about creating a positive customer service experience from start to finish. Everyone, from our friendly office staff to our sales team, to the crew that completes your service is happy to help you find the solution that best suits your needs.

Wonderland is proud to employ craftsmen skilled in many trades. We take pride in our experienced staff that treat your property with respect and care while using the latest in technology and equipment.

Tree and Shrub Care

As Long Island natives and long-time residents ourselves, the Wonderland team is familiar with Mother Nature's whims and has a deep understanding of the effects climate and pests can have on your property.

There is an art to accommodating flora's physiological needs while balancing the aesthetic you want to achieve. We know Long Island's trees, shrubs, and perennials inside and out, and our goal is to keep them healthy and beautiful.

Our expert arborists and horticulturists may advise against planting certain varieties or recommend ideal placement for plants, trees, and features to ensure the longevity of the vision you want to achieve.

We're proactively thinking about your property even when you're not and will recommend services and maintenance based on our deep knowledge of the region. For example, our experts might suggest extra watering ahead of a prolonged dry spell.

We could observe pest activity moving into the area and recommend proactive treatment to prevent an infestation. We can explain the benefits of structural tree pruning to ensure strength in tough conditions, or suggest lightning protection or cabling and bracing for special and vulnerable trees. These are just a handful of the many services we offer to care for your trees and shrubs.

Our first-hand experience with ice storms, snow storms, hurricanes, and the like offers a unique perspective for clients wishing to preserve trees. When the unexpected does happen, we provide necessary cleanup in our community after some of the toughest storms.

Safety is of the utmost importance in these delicate situations. Our experts have the experience and skills to ensure everyone's safety during clean-up. Plus, we will leave your property in the best condition it can be after a storm event.

Wonderland continues to provide dedicated care and pruning to this intricate landscape, including a new unique landscape design that was installed in 2024.

Plant Health Care

Plant health care is part art and part science. We use science to fertilize soil with organic matter, adjust pH levels, treat for pests while preserving beneficial insects, monitor treatments and more to support the overall health of the flora on your property. We do this so your landscape can be vibrant, living art you can enjoy.

Our plant health care program includes treatments for deer and tick control. For many, seeing deer in the neighborhood adds to the community's beauty. Unfortunately, deer can cause irreparable damage to shrubs and plants, and with deer often come ticks. These pests can transmit diseases to people and pets.

Gone are the days of harsh chemicals and blanket pest treatments. Wonderland's plant health care program leads the way with innovative, earth-friendly and comprehensive insect and disease management.

We combine traditional horticultural practices with the latest technology for environmentally responsible tree and shrub care, and are recognized as one of the most progressive firms in this specialty.

Wonderland's proactive approach incorporates regular property visits for consistent monitoring to detect pests and diseases before they become unmanageable. Timely and precise applications complement your landscape's natural growing conditions.

With this approach, we reduce chemical usage by up to 90% over traditional treatment programs while protecting the environment and your living assets, creating a space that is healthy and safe for you to enjoy.

The varied and unique landscapes across Long Island often present great challenges. Our plant care technicians utilize a variety of methods and techniques to maintain and improve the health of trees and shrubs. We collaborate with university research on new pests and diseases found on Long Island

Landscape Development

Wonderland is trusted to build unique projects everywhere, from elegant estates and oceanfront bluffs to suburban gardens. We are proud to build these extensions of your home, increasing your living space in the great outdoors.

Our knowledge of trees, shrubs, and perennials is extensive. You will see the difference in your landscape. Your neighbors will, too. Great landscape design always reflects your personal style as well as the space it lives in. We create beautiful and functional landscapes and can support you at every stage, from site development through construction, planting, and aftercare.

We're prepared for challenging projects. For example, when you need to move a large tree away from buildings on your property, you're not limited to removing it. Transplanting could be an option, and it's a big job with risks that requires our experienced team of experts.

Our skilled arborists and landscape technicians will walk you through pre-move planning to pick the best location, carefully extract the tree and move it to its new home. When the heavy lifting is done, our team will guide you through a detailed aftercare plan to ensure the success of the move.

When taking on large landscaping projects, our carefully crafted tree protection plans will minimize damage and ensure long-term survival after construction on your property. We're also highly experienced with the selection and planting of new trees and shrubs as well as sod installation to create thriving green spaces.

To complement these, our team applies artistry and expertise to hardscapes such as walkways, patios, and retaining walls; thoughtful grading and drainage; sparkling pools and water features and other outdoor living amenities. We're not just building landscapes, we're creating spaces to enhance and complement your lifestyle.

Our team transforms outdoor spaces into personal retreats where families gather, celebrate, and create lasting memories. This custom pool and patio showcase the precision craftsmanship and attention to detail that define Wonderland's approach to landscape design.
